Details of Program:

Green Club & Department of Zoology, Kalinga University in collaboration with Chhattisgarh Environmental Conservation Board (CECB) organized the 1st Phase of “Envirothon: Waste to Wealth” on 15.09.2025 based on Mission LiFE program at Kalinga University Campus, Naya Raipur, Chhattisgarh. This was a collaborative effort between Kalinga University and CECB, to address the overarching and challenging global issue of “Waste Management”. The main focus was to allow the young minds to creatively think for solutions which can be used in effectively and efficiently recycling waste. Selected students competed in the final phase which was held at Circuit House on 16th September, 2025. The event was graced by the Hon. Environment minister of Chhattisgarh Mr. O.P. Chowdhury. 10 UG and 14 PG teams participated from various distinguished colleges and universities of Chhattisgarh like Rungta University, St. Thomas College Bhilai, IIIT Raipur, GGU Bilaspur, etc.. Students presented ideas related to agricultural waste, municipal waste, water filtration, carbon management in air and more. Students of BZBC won 3rd prize in poster competition, and BZBC along with BScBT and Pharmacy won consolation prizes in UG category of Envirothon. Students from CS and IT won 2nd prize in UG category while MZOO 3rd sem won 3rd prize in PG category of Envirothon. The prizes won by our students are worth Rs.21500. Students received the prizes from the Hon. Environment minister of Chhattisgarh Mr. O.P. Choudhary.

To celebrate World Ozone Day 2025, the Green Club and Department of Zoology, Kalinga University, Naya Raipur, organized a painting competition on 24 September 2025 to spread awareness about the importance of protecting the ozone layer. The event was financially supported by the Chhattisgarh Environment Conservation Board (CECB).

A total of 150 students from six government and private schools of Naya Raipur, along with UG/PG students of Kalinga University, participated with great enthusiasm. The participating schools (Kendriya Vidyalaya, Sector-30, Chrystal House School, Government School, Palaud, Government School, Rakhi, Government School, Tandul, Government School, Kuhera). The students showcased their creativity in drawing and painting, making pictures relevant to the concept of ozone depletion, its causes, and possible impacts. Their artistic expressions reflected concern for the environment as well as solutions for protecting the ozone layer.

The program concluded with a prize distribution ceremony, where Mr. Amar Prakash Sawant, Public Relations Officer of CECB, felicitated the winners. In his address, he motivated students to actively participate in environmental awareness activities and emphasized the importance of sustainable living.

In the student category, the first prize was won by Chrystal House School, while the second and third prizes went to Kendriya Vidyalaya (Naya Raipur) and Government High School, Rakhi, respectively. Additionally, five consolation prizes were awarded to encourage young talent.

The vote of thanks was delivered by Dr. Manoj Singh, Head of the Department of Zoology, Kalinga University, who acknowledged the support of CECB and praised the efforts of students and teachers. The celebration not only highlighted the creative abilities of the students but also reinforced the collective responsibility of society in safeguarding the ozone layer for a sustainable future.
